By DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT. Repeal of the tobacco law as existent in the Southern Methodist church since 1914 and applying to any and all young ministers admitted on trial in that denomination since the above date was vigorously denied Friday by members of the North Georgia Methodist conference, when the memorial to the general conference from the Atlanta Methodist preachers asking repeal was overwhelmingly tabled, even after the special committee studying the memorial had recommended concurrence.

The conference approved memorials seeking to limit further the powers of bishops and providing for their election every four years with the name changed from bishop to general superintendent. The memorial asking that bishops be restrained from making appointments without a majority approval of the presiding eldera, as well as making changes in district lines, was also approved.

Two memorials asking that an ill boards in the Southern Methodist church be merged into three were submitted. One memorial was approved, while another that specifically referred to the work done by the Woman's Missionary Society, was rejected.

Widespread popular interest is manifested in Southern Methodism's tobacco law, as enacted in 1914. The law stipulates that all men admitted on trial in the Southern Methodist itinerancy before being received since that date must take a vow to abstain from the use of tobacco. The prothat date must take a vow to abstain from the use of tobacco. The proposal for repeal was urged that young men be admonished to abstain from the tobacco habit. This memorial was definitely tabled by a vigorous vote. Proponents for the repeal argue that the law is unfair, that it is not being enforced, and that many men violate their yows.

Text of Roosevelt Address

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24.

(P)—The text of the address delivered fonight by President Roosevelt at the dedication of Georgia Hall follows:

"Most people have visions of things they would like to see accomplished; fortunate are those who with their own eyes see the accomplished; fortunate are those who with their own eyes see the accomplishment becoming a fact.

"Most of you who are here tonight know the story of Warm Springs during the past nine years. Tou know of the hopeful handful of crippled children and adults who came seeking to walk again, and of the growth of our physical facilities and of our medical care to the point where the completion of Georgia Hall gives us a clear idea of the rounded picture of the Georgia Warm Springs of the future.

"In all these years our splendid progress would have been impossible had we not had the sympathy, the understanding and the help of our neighbors; and tonight I express my appreciation and thanks, first, to you my neighbors; and tonight I express my appreciation and thanks, first, to you my neighbors; and tonight I express my appreciation and thanks, first, to you my neighbors; and tonight I express my appreciation and thanks, first, to you my neighbors; and tonight I express my appreciation and thanks, first, to you my neighbors of Warm Springs and Mariwether county, for your true friendship toward me and toward all those who have come here; and, secondly, to you the people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you the people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you the people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you the people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you me people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you me people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you me people of Georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you me people of georgia whose who have come here; and, secondly, to you me people of georgia whose we can the part of those wh pital, no medical care of the highest skill can accomplish the best results unless at the same time we build up, as Mr. Callaway has said, confidence, self-reliance and cheerfulness on the part of the patients themselves. That is why the Warm Springs Foundation has established itself as a practical success in bringing back so many crippled children and crippled grown-ups to normal activities, and at the same time to a normal confidence in themselves. "We hear much these days of two adjectives—(social) and (economic) generally they are used to denote different things. Here at Warm Springs we have proved that in our work they go hand in hand. Let me give you an example; if a child is so incapacitated, because of infantile paralysis or accident or some other cause, that the child is unable to get about, take care of himself and go to school, the chances are that in most cases some grown-up person must spend a large part of the time in taking care of the child. Every social objective requires that the child be rehabilitated to lead a normal life—to become a useful member of society. In accomplishing this we reach at the same time the economic objective, for we restore the child and at the same time we release a member of his family from the constant supervision and care of the child and enable that person so to be an economically useful unit in the community. "Figures show that there are well prouder than ever to call this 'my other home.'"

There were only three speakers, the president, Chairman Callaway and Vice Chairman Woolford.

Others Introduced.

In addition, the following were introduced: Henry J. Toombs, architect; Cherry Emerson, representing Robert & Company, of Atlanta, consulting architects; Edmund F. Cook, contractor; Colonel R. DeWitt King, member of the building committee; Arthur E. Carpenter, Warm Springs Foundation resident trustee; Dr. Michael Hoke, trustee and surgeon in chief of the foundation; George Foster Peabody, Henry Pope and Keith Morgan, trustees.

Mr. Woolford also read messages of regret over their inability to attend from Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., James Woodruff, member of the building committee, and Colonel Sam Tate, of Tate, Pickens county campaign chairman.

This we do, Mr. president, with our esteem and our love, and our sincere appreciation of your great service to humanity in bringing to so many men, women and children, through this Warm Springs colony, here in Georgia, a larger measure of health and hope and happiness."

Hundreds of visitors from all over Georgia and others from other states inspected the new Georgia Hall today, all of them warmly praising the building and the men and women whose energy and whose gifts of funds made it possible. The building was constructed out of funds obtained by popular subscription.

An inscription over the fireplace in the main lobby of the building tells the story of Georgia Hall in a few words. It reads "Georgia Hall Built by Georgians as Their Contribution to a Great Humanitarian Cause."

The hall, considered the finest building of its kind ever built, is the last work in convenience for handicapped persons. The building recalls the ante-bellum mansions of so long ago. It was designed by a southern architect, Henry Toombs, who for some years has been following his profession in New York city.

that he was not considering any change in his gold policy.

By apparent coincidence, John J. Raskob, the campaign manager for Smith in 1928, came here tonight and was a "social" guest at the "little White House." It was understood his visit was primarily in connection with the defication by the president of the Georgia Hall on the foundation to night.

The same architect has designed many of the buildings of the foundation, including the swimming pool which has attracted wide attention and favorable comment since its completion a few years ago.

The new building sits directly in front of the famous old Meriwetherian. Its dining room will accommodate more than 300 persons and is painted in white and light yellow, the interior being lined with numerous paneled windows.

There is a long lobby, which runs tractically the entire front length of tiations for claims gettlements. He also was to take up the question of early departure for his post.

The reverberations of the monetary war outside caught a quick reply from General Johnson as he was questioned by newspapermen.

He pulled a statement from his pocket replying to O. M. W. Sprague, the resigned treasury adviser, which he said he had intended to include in his speech last night at Atlanta. Informed of today's attack by Smith, Johnson replied as he handed out the statement: "There is my answer to that."

that."

The statement about Sprague read:
"Just now the center of attack is the president's monetary policy. The other day a hitherto obscure professor little hour or two to strut across the stage. This has happened before in this administration—the rabbit was was already great.

"Considering that greed is the greatest of human incentives on which the minds of men have been focused since the beginning of time, somebody ought to know something about money—but nobody does. The quasi-science of economics is just a tangle of conjecture about which no two of these solemn pundits agree. Franklin Roosevelt is conducting an experiment in fact. But of this our country may be sure: that sane, cool mind is not going plunging over any abyas.

"If he did cut the gold content of the dollar in two it would still remain the best money in the world. Talk the dollar in two it would still remain the best money in the world. Talk about impairment of the federal credit is silly. We are a creditor nation, with a favorable balance of trade and with 40 per cent of the gold there is. Our regular budget is balanced and, in the named event we would have a dollar in gold for every dollar of paper. The world must buy dollars in order to pay debts and the trade balance. Any man who falsely impugns the credit of the United States is impugning the welfare of our whole people. It is simply another example of small men yearning for the public gaze."

of small men yearning for the public gaze."

Arriving just before noon, Acting Secretary Morgenthau had to go on a search to find the president. He found him in the open-air pool enjoying a plunge. He got in, too, and was driven back by the president for lunch at the cottage a mile away on Pine mountain.

However, they were definitely said not to have gotten down to any business talk and once again, the apparent unconcern of the president over his monetary policy was indicated.

The somewhat shy, newly appointed treasury head declined to speak about the monetary question pending a business meeting with Mr. Roosevelt. Asked why he came down he insisted that it was for "a vacation planned long ago." Mrs. Morgenthau came with him and had lunch with the president and his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt St.

WNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24.—

(P)—Knoxville citizens, will vote tomorrow on a proposal to issue $3,225,000 in bonds to finance a municipal electric system.

The city proposes to buy electricity from the Tennessee Valley Authority, an agency set up by President Roosevelt to operate the government's hydro-electry plant at Muscle Shoals and build Morris dam in east Tennessee.

Don't let them get a strangle hold.
Fight germs quickly. Creemulsion combines the 7 best helps known to modern science. Powerful but harmless. Pleasant to take. No narcotics. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creemulsion.—(adv.)

Should Knoxville approve municipal power, it will be the first large city in the Tennessee valley to avail itself of a power contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Around 10,000 ballots are expected to be cast in the bond issue election. Interest is tense. It marks the end of a two weeks' bitter campaign between advocates of privately and publicly owned power.

One of Most Elaborate Trials Ends With Wholesale Convictions.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 .- (P) seventy-one men were convicted on a conspiracy charge today in what indge and prosecutor described as one of the most elaborate criminal trials in the history of the federal courts. Accused of participating in a "proection" organization which dominated the liquor traffic in near-by Delaware county, the 71 were promptly sen-tenced and as promptly granted an ap-peal which serves as a stay until a higher court reviews their case next March.

State Senator John J. McClure, of Chester, received the severest sentence as the alleged leader of the organization. He was given 18 months in a federal penitentiary and fined $10,000.
Five police patrols and a score of policemen arrived to take the defendants to jail, but the defense attorneys got there first with circuit court of appeals writ.

appeals writ.

No sooner had he finished sentencing the men than Judge George A. Welsh told the jury, "You and I never again will see the government pitted against more powerful influences, more adroitly managed, than has been the government in this case."

Saying his remarks had "no personal application to the defendants," the jurist asserted: "This has been a tremendous battle. Mighty forces have been arrayed on the side of the defendants. How mighty they were I know only too well."

The government charged that the protection "ring" levied tribute on speakeasy and still operators, liquor smugglers and bootleggers, disorderly house proprieters and gambling house managers. Those who paid were protected by police on the organization's pay roll, witnesses said. Those who refused were raided, it was testified."

The trial lasted almost eight weeks although the defense did not present a witness.

EDMONTON, Alberta, Nov. 24. (#)—A father and son, Kenneth and William McLean, from Tennessee, paid with their lives by hanging to-day for the murder of Walter J. rsille, Canadian farmer.

The two McLeans, from Knoxville, Tenn, were convicted on circumstantial evidence.

They were executed at the Fort Saskatchewan jail. The son, William, died first at 3:47 a. m., and 22 minutes later his father followed. As the son left the death cell block, he paused at the doorway. Although there were no witnesses to the shooting, the crown weaved a net of circumstantial evidence around the pair. During the trial the son took the stand as a witness and definitely linked his father with the slaying by saying he had tried to dissuade the elder man from shooting.

WOULD EASILY BEAT HIM ON A LONG DISTANCE FLIGHT! MANY WINTER GASOLINES ARE LIKE HUMMING BIRDS! They use all their energy for the first quick burst of starting—and lose mileage. Improved Super Shell is the first "cold weather" gasoline to combine quick starting with full summer mileage. Save at least one mile a gallon! Over 200 extra miles this winter!—Change to Super Shell.

YOU SAVE MONEY.... by using the improved Super Shell, because you get quicker starting with less gasoline, and that leaves you more gasoline, in every gallon, for extra mileage.

Ordinary gasolines give you less mileage in winter. Some are overloaded, for quick starting in winter, with light, gassy parts, which you lose after your engine warms up; others are hard to start, and thus waste your gasoline by excessive "choking." Both types of ordinary gasolines waste your miles and your dollars.

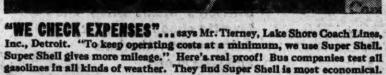

Improved Super Shell starts quicker and gives you more mileage in winter. Use Super Shell and save your money—get an extra mile per gallon.

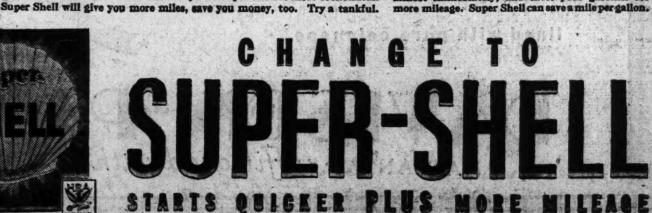

THOUSANDS CHANGING TO SUPER SHELL FOR OUICKER STARTING AND FULL MILEAGE...Like Mr. Remaus, Cleveland, shown above, many thousands of motorists everywhere have changed to the improved new Super Shell. All because Super Shell is the first gasoline to combine quick starting with full mileage. No need for you to waste one mile or more per gallon in cold weather. No need to be bothered with a hard-starting engine. Change to Super Shell-get quicker starting, plus longer mileage.

THE PALESTINE OUTBREAKS.

The outbreaks in Palestine between the Arabs and the Jews come at a time of general prosperity throughout the country, for which the Jews are largely responsible but from which the Arabs are already receiving major benefits.

In the last two years alone American Jews have invested more than $12,000,000 in Palestine, which, with similar investments from Jews elsewhere in the world, have caused the starting up of new industries in avery part of the country and the bringing of agriculture to a flourbhing state.

In the looting of some of the great railway systems of the country, and undoubtedly much of what he has to say is true, no such methods have ever influenced the management. In the country stands higher as an exemplar of safe and sound management. If the rare combination of progressiveness and conservatism that has guided the administration of the L. & N. had been applied to the management of all the railroads of the country, they would have largely escaped the troubles with which they have been beset during the past few years.

The ingenious device of placing himself under arrest was recently adopted by the peasant mayor of a Slavonian village, who wished to undertake a somewhat costly journer on private business at the public expense. In company with several friends, nominally his official escort, he traveled on a free pass made out by himself. The suspicions of the conductor on the train were aroused by the cheerful demeanor of the party, which stocked up on bottles of brandy at every halt. The business eventually led to an inquiry, and then the mayor took a real trip, no cost involved either, but he was less cheerful, for he landed in jail for a year. jail for a year.

News Behind the News By Paul Mallon.

PREPARATIONS WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The republicans have hardly been able to speak above a whisper since the last election, but they are going to set up a national megaphone here around January 1.

About that time a stronger national headquarters staff will be whisped up. The work of Chairman Venable, of the congressional conditions. committee, also will be amplified. Scours are how out trying to

That much has been decided in recent conferences at com mittee headquarters. How far the reorganization will go will be determined by the assembling congressmen.

Agitation to decapitate Chairman Sanders has been dormant for months. The congressmen will determine among themselves whether the reorganization should include him.

PUBLICITY The headquarters has been running on a dime

Those three recent statements criticizing administration policy were devised, not by a publicity man, but by J. Bennett Gordon, research director. There is no publicity man.

Gordon sent out 2,000 copies of the first one in confidence. He did not expect it to be printed, but his optimism was not warranted. No one can send out 2,000 copies of anything in Washington and expect to keep it quiet.

The reaction was so good that current releases are being spread around for publication.

BUNGLING The official handling of the government bond market was completely bungled on the inside during the change in treasury leadership.

Mr. Roosevelt had fixed things up with Treasury Secretary Woodin to Issue a statement expressing confidence in governments before he went off sick. Prices went up for several days, so Woodin failed to make the statement. Later, when lack of confidence was expressed by Professor Sprague and others, Woodin had to make the statement from New York. It lost its full force then.

SABOTAGE? Similarly newcomer Morgenthau tried to hasten into print with his confidence, but along came the announcement that the federal reserve was curtailing its usual weekly purchases. That hurt Morgenthau's effort. The truth seems to be that government officials are not worried about anything being fundamentally wrong with the govern-

They are worried about the creation of a bad national psychology.

They cannot prove it but they really believe there has been some sabotaging of the government market by persons interested in embarrassing the gold price policy. Their suspicions are directed against certain New York interests, and not, of course. against Professor Sprague.

DOUGLAS The administration tacticians have been confident Budget Director Douglas (the last of the conserva-tives) will not follow the exit of Dean Acheson and Professor

They have heard he recently submitted his resignation to the president and Mr. Roosevelt declined to accept it. They do not guarantee that information, but they do say Douglas will remain least until he finishes his budget.

His position is different from the others. He is doing the specific budget job, which has nothing to do with money policies.

SMOKING Those bolder promises of early silver action are being made by the silverites with a purpose. The administration has been toying with that subject offstage for many months. It is not part of the Warren scheme, it does not fit into the gold price or commodity dollar picture. Nevertheless Mr. Roosevelt is supposed to have told Professor Warren recently to work something out on the subject in accordance with the demands of silver-producing states. The idea is that they have as much right to expect relief as the corn or cotton

But publication of the plan has been so long delayed that the silver boys are getting impatient. These public predictions of early action may smoke the admin-

Very little authentic information has been available on that ect. A lot of bad information has been widely circulated. The best information indicated the administration would come out at the proper time with a plan for silver purchases. certificates would be issued against these purchases. The amount expected varies from fifty million dollars to two hundred millions. Such a program would be mildly inflationary and largely for re-

The theme song written in the treasury press room for Morgenthau is entitled: "I'm Heading for the Last Write-Up." An Irreverent cartoon on the wall pictures Messrs. Morgenthau and Jones on their hands and knees casting dice to decide what the daily gold price should be.

Morgenthau knew the newsmen well at Albany and at the White House here, but did not recognize a familiar face in his first treasury press conference when he proposed the news restriction order. One reason the order was modified was that newsmen tested its efficiency by deluging it with inquiries.

The fact that Mrs. Gann is getting her picture in the papers again is sufficient proof of renewed republican activity.

The problem of code violations in certain industries is causing plenty of trouble inside the NRA now. The technical questions involved are so complicated that some conscientious men there are ready to give up in despair.

Even when confronted with the signed confession of his mother, Earle had been unwilling to believe his mother guilty. Separately the mother and son had been questioned through most of Thursday night. Earle had talked freely of his life with Rheta, whom he had woode by letter only to find unhappiness in marriage. He had told of friendship with other girls—one showed the diamond ring he had given her, others told of his courting. But he professed to have no knowledge of his wife's murderer.

At length he sobbed for his mother and Dr. Alice was brought to comfort the youth in her arms and assure him: "I didn't do it."

Civic Forum Hears Appeal for Negotiations of Reciprocal Accords.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(P)—Secretary Wallace, of the agriculture department, tonight carried his plea for restoration of foreign purchasing power by systematic efforts to lower tariffs and negotiate reciprocal trade agreements to the civic forum, a group of consumers.

agreements to the civic forum, a group of consumers.

After a campaign in the middle west against the farmers' holiday movement, Wallace came into historic Town Hall to urge "a truly scientific revision" of tariffs.

"To get by without any reduction of acreage at all might require the importation of nearly a billion dollars more stuff than we received in 1929," said Wallace after a lengthy exposition of the farm problem in which he discussed government acquisition of sub-marginal farm land.

Industry vs. Agriculture.

Industry vs. Agriculture.

Industry va. Agriculture.

"Such huge receipts would make necessary careful government planning of our industrial production," he said. "It is interesting to note that the program which makes agricultural planning less necessary makes industrial planning less necessary makes industrial planning more so.

"A truly scientific readjustment of our tariff policy would involve the careful examination of every product produced in the United States or imported, and the determination of just which of our monopolistic or inefficient industries we are willing to expose to real foreign competition."

The problem, Wallace commented, could not be approached from the viewpoint of democrats or republicans, but from the standpoint of a long-time national plan which the country was willing to follow for at least 20 or 30 years.

"Obviously, the doctrine of differences in cost of production at home and abroad had little to do with working out this program in a sound way," said Wallace.

GEORGE SEEKS RELIEF FOR STATE'S SCHOOLS

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Allocation of additional funds for educational work relief in Georgia was urged upon Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today by Senator Walter F. George, of George, of Georgia.

In a telegraphic message to Administrator Hopkins and Commissioner of Education George F. Zook, the Georgia senator said further direct relief was necessary to maintain elief was necessary to maintain many of the rural schools of the tate now running on reduced schedules.

As a part of its educational work relief program, the emergency relief administration has allotted $34,000 to Georgia. Declaring this sum to be insufficient to meet the needs of the state. Senator George, who sponsored the bill passed by congress to extend vocational education in rural schools, offered his services in proposing further legislation at the next session for expanding the program if additional funds are required.

The present educational work relief program of the emergency relief agency embraces the following six points, it was explained here today:
1. Extension of terms of rural elementary schools which heretofore, especially in the south, have either been unable to open at all or only for a short time.

2. Opening classes for adult illiter-3. Vocational training classes for

3. Vocational training classes for unemployed adults.

4. Rehabilitation of disabled persons who need additional training to render them employable.

5. Classes for employed or other adults in general educational subjects.

6. Development of nursery schools for children of unemployed persons.

Senator George, while giving his wholehearted approval to the scope of the program as outlined, expressed the view that the funds allocated for carrying it out should be much greater.

FRAUD IN PREPARATION OF JURY ROLL CHARGED

By T. M. DAVENPORT.

DECATUR, Ala., Nov. 24,—(A)—
A formal charge of fraud in preparation of the jury roll in Jackson county from which the grand jury was drawn that indicted the seven negro defendants in the "Scottsboro case" late today was added to the allegation of "systematic exclusion of negroes" on the defense motion to quash the indictments.

Samuel S. Leibowitz, chief of counsel retained for the negroes by the International Labor Defense, entered the fraud charge as an additional ground just before the record of testimony on a similar motion in the cases last spring was read.

"I desire to add to the grounds pending," he said, "the additional ground that there was fraud in the compilation of the jury roll from which

Moving to a climax, attorneys for the seven negro defendants in the "Scottsboro case" today continued the examination of Jackson county officials seeking to establish "systematic exclusion" of negroes from juries in that county to sustain a motion to quash the indictments returned on March 31, 1931.

Samuel S. Leibowitz, chief counsel, retained by the International Labor Defense, planned tomorrow to introduce a handwriting expert to determine whether there was fraud in the entries of negro names on the 1931 jury roll, and today said there would be "some surprises."

The slowly moving examination of the jury roll was interrupted this afternoon by Judge W. W. Callahan, presiding, to arraign Clarence Norris and set his trial for November 30. Norris was arraigned and the motion to quash the venire, the same as that entered when Heywood Patterson was arraigned Monday, was entered. Judge Callahan then fixed the date of the trial.

Norris, and six other negroes facing trial, are under indictments charging them with attacking Mrs. Victoria PARIS, Nov. 24.—(P)—Camille Chautemps, an outstanding leader of the radical socialist party and a parliamentary veteran of long standing, will be summoned tomorrow to form a new French cabinet, barring some unforeseen development, it was reliably learned tonight.

The former minister of the interior expected the support of about half of the socialists, former Premier Herriot's radical socialists, and the center votes should be assume the job of succeeding Albert Sarraut, whose ministry fell early today on budgetary proposals.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(P)—The British government's approval of Italian ideas on how the disarmament and Georges Bonnet, the finance minister in the defeated cabinet, were talked of earlier as possible successors of commons.

Since Italy desires to put Premier Mussolini's four-power western European peace pact to work, Sir John's statement was viewed in informed guarters as strengthening a possibility of eventual arms discussions by France, Germany, Italy and Britain in Rome, while the League of Nations machinery would temporarily be in abeyance.

Sir John explained British steps to promote disarmament consultations in which Germany would be considered in the finance ministry. Chautemps was called to the Elysee palace by President Lebrum's talked about affairs in the ministry of the interior, but the visit was taken as a financial expert able to settle the pressing budget problem.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands.
Nov. 24.—(P)—Colonel and Mrs.
Charles A. Lindbergh brought their hydroplane down on Gando Bay this afternoon after a 800-mile flight from Ponta Delgada, the Azores.
The plane circled over the city several times before its smooth landing on the bay. The fliers revealed they had planned to head for the Madeira islands, but bad flying weather and poor visibility caused them to continue to Las Palmas.

As soon as the populace became aware of the identity of the craft and its occupants, crowds gathered on the shore and cheered the Lindberghs enthusiastically.

Colonel Lindbergh moored the plane securely and then proceeded with Mrs.

Both teams are pretty well battered. Having seen the Georgia cripples, I am inclined to believe that Georgia is the worse off because of the fact that Georgia has fewer capable reserves.

When the Auburn game came along the Georgia reserves were unable to stop the attack and the game was lost. That day the entire Georgia team was tired. They left a lot of football in the Yale bowl.

It now becomes a question of how much football Tech left on the field for the Alabama game. And how much energy the Bulldogs have been able to recapture.

Any prediction on the game must be a lot of fast open field running.

Tech appears to me to be the probable winner. But what am I going to do with the picture that sticks in my mind of Georgia mowing down Tulane, N. Y. U., Yale and a keyedup North Carolina State eleven?

Annual Game Holds South's Interest; Auburn Plays Florida.

By Dillon Graham,

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Aged in tradition, surrounded by color and background, the annual Georgia-Georgia Tech football game here today will be played before a sellout crowd of 30,000.

There are other major games in the southeast—Auburn's tilt with Florida at Gainesville; Louisiana's charge against Mississippi State at Baton Rouge, Tulane's meeting with Sewanee at New Orleans—but none has the history and the picturesqueness of this yearly struggle between the Bulldog and the Yellow Jacket.

Forty years ago Tech and Georgia inaugurated their series. During the seasons that have passed 28 games have been played. Georgia holds a one-game edge in the rivalries.

BOTH INJURED.

Injuries have hurt the strength of Injuries have hurt the strength of both elevens. Georgia has six ailing warriors who won't start and Georgia Tech has two. However, all except Leroy Moorehead, Georgia guard, likely will play for a while.

Given little chance a fortnight ago, Georgia Tech has come along fast and tonight was accorded an even chance against a Georgia club that apparently has slipped some. Each team has a formidable aerial attack that should add thrills to their contest.

add thrills to their contest.

Louisiana, the only Southeastern conference team that has gone unbeaten, is a heavy favorite over a battered Mississippi State outfit.

AUBURN FAVORED.

Auburn is a slight choice over Florida. Auburn was at its peak a week ago in defeating Georgia and Coach Chet Wynne fears a let-down among his players. Florida is known to possess one of the south's best passing combinations and Wynne is apprehensive lest this, coupled with a revamped running attack, may be too much for the Plainsmen.

After a two-weeks' rest, Florida will be ready to uncork one of its best games of the year. Henderson and Chase, two star backs who have been out with injuries, have returned and their presence may add 50 per cent to the Florida offensive power.

Auburn has won 7 of the 12 games played since their rivalry was begun in 1912. The largest crowd of the season is looked for at the Gainesville home-coming. AUBURN FAVORED.

TULANE LIKED.

TULANE LIKED.

Tulane, running at full speed now after a slow and fumbling start, expects no trouble from Sewanee and likely will give its regulars little work, saving them for the important state battle a week hence with Louisiana.

Mississippi deploys against Centenary at Shreveport, La., and has hopes of scoring on the "Gentlemen"—something no other, team has done this year. Centenary's fine defensive record gives it the edge.

Other engagements bring together Clemson and Citadel, Centre and Georgetown, Mississippi Teachers and Delta State, Presbyterian and Catawba and Stetson and Tampa.

The Southern A. A. U. cross country championships, team and individual, will be held over the City park course in New Orleans, December 16. Louisiana State and Tulane are among the colleges which will have strong teams entered.

When Georgia plays Georgia Tech in Atlanta tomorrow Willie Garner won't be in the Bulldog lineup. He won't even be in uniform on the bench. Few of those 25,000 who will see the game can say they ever heard of Willie Garner.

Willie is one of the scrubs. He has fought for Georgia for four years—on the practice field. He has given everything he had for Georgia—as much as Captain Graham Batchelor, Halfback Homer Key or any other of the varsity stars. Knowing that his chances of glory were of the slimest type, Willie has answered the practice call day by day, has been crushed and battered by the first-team aces. He has picked his slight frame up from the ground and smilingly prepared for another charge.

Willie is partly responsible for Georgia's fine teams of late years. They've been good because, in some measure, the scrubs have given them a fight in practice, have accustomed Diminutive Homer Key, left, will play his last game on Georgia soil for the University of Georgia this afternoon against Tech at Grant field in the 40th anniversary of the great rivalry. Key has been a strong factor in Georgia's fine season. Big Jack Phillips, right, is Tech's Jack-of-alltrades. He runs, kicks, passes and backs up the line. Phillips is of All-Southern caliber and is expected to play one of the greatest games of his career today. The kick-off is scheduled at 2 o'clock and a capacity crowd of 30,000 is assured. Copyright, 1933, by the North America Newspaper Alliance, Inc.) NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24.— The list of southern football games this week is a short one, for many traditional contests are played on Thanksgiving Day following. These against Kentucky, against Tulane, against Mississippi State.

Over in the Southern conference everything will be forgotten in the age-old meeting of Virginia and North Carolina.

For intense rivalry and flaming and last-ditch determination, nothing excels the Georgia-Georgia Tech game. The latter has probably played nearer the limit of its ability each game than any team in the conference. Georgia's record is more impressive, her material a little better balanced, and is favored to win.

Harry Mehre, head ecoach, arrived, late, but announced that, with the exception of Loroy Moorehead, all the Georgia cripples would play. It is possible that Chapman, the injured fullback, will start the game. Retiring President Homer Sanford, under whom the organization has had a most progressive year, opened the meeting and turned it over to the toastmaster, Harold Hirsch, the beloved honorary president of the alumni.

Fair weather, a fast field and 30.000 witnesses will greet the football teams of the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech this afternoon when they come forth for their twenty-eighth meeting before a colorful throng at Grant field.

Play is scheduled to get under way at 2 o'clock, and by that time every grandstand seat and every emergency bleacher space will be taken.

Bad weather and one-sided games have marred some of the Tech-Georgia meetings. But today the setting seems to be ideal in so far as the pre-game prognosticators can fathom.

GEORGIA FAVORITE.

GEORGIA FAVORITE.

GEORGIA FAVORITE.

Georgia still must rate the favorite's place at the post, despite the loss to Auburn, on the basis of a superior record. But those who figure things closer than that are aware of the fact that Tech is more of a match for the red invaders today than the records indicate.

Both are undoubtedly powerful football teams, with offenses that have struck brilliantly in most of their games. Georgia has won seven and lost one; Tech has won four and lost four. But at no time has Tech looked like a poor football team, and has outplayed badly the four oppoments which managed to eke out a victory, two of these winning on last-period breaks which went against the Jackets, notably Vanderbilt and Alabama. A 101-yard run by Bucky Bryan turned the tide in favor of Tulane, and the other loss was by 7-6 to Kentucky, a team which the Jackets outplayed by a wide margin.

Late in the fourth quarter Boys' High passed 38 yards, Smith to Maftett, and placed the ball on the 20-yard line. Smith added 5 more and two passes, the second over the goal, lost the ball on downs. The Purples were not through and came back with another passing attack, Smith to Maftett, but the game ended before another long one could be completed. Two passes were ruled complete Tech High interference, but did no particular damage.

STARS.

Tech High's line and the off tackle

Tech High's line and the off tackle runs of Ellis and Perry's punting were outstanding in the victory. And the Smithies were conceded to be no match for the fine Purple line, but the forward wall stood up and held like concrete and steel when the goal was threatened.

George Gerakitis gained the most ground for Boys' High and was the Purples' main running attack. Carlisle Smith, due to an injured side played unusually good, and it was his accurate passes that were a continual threat to the Smithies. Captain Maffett played his best game, despite the two runs that won the game were made around his end, though it required two Smithles to block him out. He caught one long pass with four Smithies around him, and it was the last play of the game. Dick Jones played well at center and also did a good job of backing up the line, though it was his first game in several weeks, due to an injury. Allen played a fine game at right end.

When Jack Harris, editor of the Masquerader, Commodore publication, went to his office today he found the bell in front of his door. He didn't know how it got there.

Ed Cavaliere, of Atlanta, who first set the bell up as a trophy for the teams and has been its custodian at each game since, got excited when Tech weored a touchdown in the last part of the game and stood up to yell. When Cavaliere resumed his seat the bell, which he had put down beside him, had disappeared.

The theory advanced by Harris was that someone took the bell to keep it from going back to Atlanta. "But when we came back in the last quarter and won the game," he said, "whoever had it must not have known exactly what to de with it."

Titles and Sectional and National Honors at Stake Today.

By Jack Cuddy.

By Jack Caddy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(UP)—
Traditional honors, sectional titles and national rankings will be at stake tomorrow when the nation's football legions do battle on all fronts on the season's last big Saturday.

Every section of the country has traditional classics scheduled, renewing such ivy-clustered meetings as Army-Navy, Harvard-Yale, Princeton-Rutgers, Georgia-Georgia Tech, Stanford-California, Washington-Washington State, Illinois-Ohio State and Southern California-Notre Dame.

Army and Princeton, in addition to participating in traditional games, are staking their perfect records against stiff opposition. They and Duke are the three remaining contenders for the national crown. Duke is expected to have comparatively easy going against North Carolina State.

ARMY FAVORED.

ARMY FAVORED.

ARMY FAVORED.

Army is favored to beat the Middies at Philadelphia before one of the largest crowds of the day, while Princeton is expected to find stiff opposition in Rutgers' scarlet-sweatered players, when they renew the oldest football rivalry in America after a lapse of 18 years.

More than 50,000 fans are expected to see Harvard and Yale continue their upper-atrata classic at Cambridge, with Yale favored. Other interesting eastern encounters pair Columbia-Syracuse, N. Y. U.-Carnegie Tech, Georgetawn-West Virginia, Lebigh-Lafayette and Temple-Villanova. In the midwest the annual Notre Dame-Southern California classic lost much prestige because both teams have been beaten, but it still will be a mighty interesting match. Michihave been beaten, but it still will be a mighty interesting match. Michigan, despite its scoreless tie with Minnesota, hopes to win its fourth consecutive Big Ten title by beating Northwestern. Other conference games pair Illinois-Ohio State, Purdue-Indiana and Minnesota-Wisconsin. Chicago entertains Dartmouth; Nebraska encounters Iowa; Detroit plays Michigan State, and Iowa State tackles Drake.

DIXIE GAMES.

South of the Mason-Dixon line the big game brings together Georgia and Georgia Tech. Other contests in their Southeastern conference bring together Florida-Auburn, Tulane-Sewanee, and Louisiana-Mississippi State, Mississippi meets Centenary. In the Southern conference, Duke can finish the season with four straight conference victories against three for South Carolina if Duke can beat North Carolina if Duke can beat North Carolina State. Such a victory also would enhance its possibilities of getting a ticket to the Rose Bowl.

In the far west Stanford is fa-ting a ticket to the Rose Bowl.

In the far west Stanford is favored to beat California in their ancient rivalry at Palo Alto, giving the Indians a chance to the Oregon for the Pacific conference title and clinch the west Rose Bowl bid. Washington is favored over Washington State. St. Mary's tangles with U. C. L. A. Meanwhile, in the Rocky Mountains, the Colorado Aggies can the Denver for the conference lead by beating Colorado College. Western State meets Wyoming.

The Morris Brown and Florida State College football game this afternoon will rival in color any colored game played this season. Two bitter ancient rivals, who in the past have played very close games, will fight for supremacy of the Southern conference race at Ponce de Loon park at 2 o'clock today.

Florida, with not as good a record as the Wolverines, will be the underdogs in this encounter, but dope stands for nothing Netfled over their defeat in 1930. Morris Brown's great defensive team this year, with an unbeaten record at stake, will be bent on stopping the Battlesnakes cold.

Coach Ted Wright, vith a squad of 44 men, arrived in the city. Friday afternoon. It was a heavy bunch of athletes that strolled from under the terminal station, smiling and confident. With a forward wall rated the best among colored schools in America. Johnson and Elebec, Florida's main threats, appeared to be in the best condition, both mentally and physically.

Coaches Nicks and Lockhart, of Morris Brown, realize that today's game will be either the making or breaking point in their schedule, notwithstanding the game here with Clark University on Thanksgiving Day that will decide the local championship and perhaps the conference title. They will start a young backfield with the exception of Shag Jones, veteram quarterback. John Fudge and Mitchell, at the halfback positions, and Dixon, fullback, will compose the Wolverine offensive.

Several visitors from Florida, who accompanied the team here, will be in the rooting stands and a large alumni body in the city will give the Floridans a strong delegation at the game.

down the field against Georgia Tech with a running game. No team has been able to do that. No eleven has found itself able to score against the Jackets more than once by lugging the football along.

If Georgia scores carrying the ball it will be from near midfield with Key or Grant shaking loose for an open field run. Tech has no back who can run in the open field as can

Cy Grant, Homer Key or Sam Brown.

And so, if Georgia is to score carrying the ball, it will be from about midfield.

Tech, on the other hand, has the power to drive the ball by short gains.

WATCH THE DEFENSES.

Football fans should watch the defenses today. Take a this year. look at the defensive set which Coach William Alexander employs to stop the Georgia backfield, to meet the Notre Dame

Because today marks the beginning of two separate two-day "Thanksgiving turkey shoots" at Fort McPher-

Peer a while at the set which Harry Mehre uses. He has used several defenses this fall. So, for that matter, has Tech. It will be interesting to observe what each coach prepares to observe what each coach prepares to other for the skeet enthusiasts.

Tech uses a straight balanced line on offense, going into it from a military shift.

It is a battle of coaching wits as well as a battle of players. It is up to the players to make the defense good or fail in it. Tech has been unusually good at setting a defense to stop Notre Dame plays. Few Notre Dame offenses have won from Tech in the past two years. The selection of plays will count for a great deal. A smart quarterback can often turn the tide.

THE NOTE OF HYSTERIA GROWS.

The note of hysteria grows as the time for the game draws

At lunch yesterday a Georgia alumnus paused at the table. His face was pale. His eyes were glazed. He rubbed his hands with a nervous gesture.

On ordinary days he is a successful young businessman. But yesterday he gulped, rubbed his hands again and, smiling wanly, said, "Well, just 24 more hours. In the afternoon a Tech alumnus came into the office.

"I'll never see the game," he said. "I have left my office. can't work. We've got to win this game.'

On average days he lives a calm life, goes home to the wife and family and takes in a movie. For some unknown reason this game has aroused the respective alumni more than any in the long span of time since 1893, when the teams met for the first time. The players are likely to catch some of this feverish hysteria.

It is the last game against Tech for Homer Key, Graham Batchelor, Sam Brown and others of the Georgia squad. It is the last charge against Georgia for Jimmy Slocum, Bob Tharpe, Eddie Laws and others of the Yellow Jacket squad.

THOSE TWO TICKETS.

Mr. Riley McCoy, the police reporter for The Constitution, has solved the mystery of the two pawned tickets to the Georgia-Georgia Tech game.

They were redeemed yesterday from the pawn shop on Decatur street.

Gather around. He's going to take another girl just to spite the one he first bought the tickets for. And I guess THAT

It was the first time Chocolate, who holds the world's featherweight championship, had ever been knocked out. When his first knyo came, it came with full force. At the count of 10 he was still prostrate on the floor and had to be dragged to his corner. It was fully a minute before he was able to regain his feet.

It gives a thrill, of course, to camp under a tree they're roosting in and try your luck at the crack of dawn... or crack down from a stand as they come running or flying by ... but it won't be necessary to go into the woods for a Thanksgiving turkey this year.

Alex Morrison says:

"Uncocking of the wrists" is an expression used to cover the action of the wrists during the downswing.

It's one of the most popular phrases used in present day instruction—and one that does much to handicap the player in making his swing.

The wrists should unbend during the downswing, but any conscious effort or your part to make them unbend will only upset your swing as a whole.

Northwestern's charts shows one of the queerest turns. Northwestern scored more points against Indiana than Minnesota and Notre Dame combined—and then remained scoreless in every other contest with no less than six shutouts marked up. Yet Northwestern was strong enough to the Minnesota and Stanford and slightly outplay both.

Notre Dame's record of three touch-downs in seven games remains one of the most amazing events of an amazing year, when you consider the amount of latent scoring force the South Bend contingent has in stock.

Thie Tech-Georgia business started back in 1893 and, with the exception of an interim of pique when no football was played, it has been an annual battle of emotions, as well as one of physical prowess.

As Napoleon put it to his troops at the Battle of the Pyramids, 40 generations look down upon the embattled teams today. It all started 40 years ago and the phrase, while a trifle worn, would still make a fair to middling line for the rival coaches to remember in haranguing their forces. Forty generations is a long time and a lot of rivalry and an equal amount of plain garden variety of hate can be generated in that time.

The first game was in 1802 and be generated in that time.

STARTED IN '93.

The first game was in 1893 and since the incipient stage, Georgia has won 13 times, Tech 12 times and there have been three scoreless ties, the most recent of which came only last year when the teams "mudded it" through 60 minutes to a 0-0 result.

Since resuming relations in 1925, Georgia has won four games and Tech three, the Bulldogs retaining their one-game edge when Tech, a slight favorite, failed to score last year. The Jackets were given their best chance since 1928 on that day.
Tech is something of the under dog today. There are some who entertain a sneaking notion that Tech might win, but the fact remains that the Bulldogs hold the odds in the betting, which is slight and with a maximum of 7 points or one touchdown in the point spotting.

AN EXCITING DAY.

But the city of Atlanta was just getting started in its preparations. Visitors were pouring in from all roads, hotels were jammed to capacity and the most colorful setting imaginable was in prospect, with Grant field sold out.

The game is not without its sentiment today, Many old grads are here for Tech's home-coming. A memorial plaque to General Leonard Wood, a pioneer player and coach of the school, will be dedicated. Players Slocum, Tharpe, Spradling, Pool, Petersen, Davis and Galloway, of Tech, will face the Georgia formations for the last time, and several of the Bulldogs, including Captain Batchelor, Key, Leroy Young and Cooper will make their last stand against Tech. Georgia has Southern California remaining afreer this game, and Tech has Duke, both on December 2.

NoCooking! NoWork! Real Saving!

Kon'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and it's a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

MY SQUIRREIS.

From the second-floor breakfast room, I can see the entire back garden to good advantage. I like to roost over a radiator there and water the squirrels and the cats having a merry old time with each other on cold afternoons. There is a slender hickory in the line of sight from the window to the edge of the garage, and this tree furnishes a battleground of no mean sort for a daily drama. At the foot of the tree there are several pleces of rustic furniture. Cats to the number of three like to hide beneath these chairs and wait for the squirrels are cautious little beasts, ing attack. Once in a blue moon a squirrel is caught, and the cat is punished; the game is broken up for a while.

Suppose we come on the scene while the cat is wairing under the chair. There may not be a squirrel in sight. After a while there will be a bound from the tail oak near the house, and the squirrel will land on the swaying top branches of the hickory swinging completely over in his landing, like the man on the flying trayer. He steadies himself in the treetop, and begins a careful survey of the world. Seeing nothing interesting, he begins to explore the tree, spiralling down the trunk, head down.

Timing the Defense

BY ELY CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

In the proper timing of the defense against a no-trump contract, it is most important that both players be alert to the necessity of preserving the entries which will free the suit they attempt to establish. Usually, the nortump contract is a sound one and the defending team requires two reentries (or tempos) in addition to their advantage of the tempo implied in the opening lead. In these cases it is important that the second tempo shall fall to the player who holds the long cards of the established suit, and to this end it is important that the first which they must use. "Genius is the infinite capacity for taking pains." When the word is used our minds immediately fasten on the name of some great man or woman distinguished in science, art, literature or business. Recognized geniuses pass in review before the mind's eye and we apply the definition to them individually to test its truthfulness: Edison, who thought nothing of sitting up all night to wrestle with a minor detail of some new invention; Meissonier, who worked long hours on the gaiter buttons and buckles on the foot of a subject he was painting; Dickens, who kept a notebook in which he wrote names copied from newspapers and school lists, muiling over them for months before he chose a name for one of his characters; Rockefeller, budgeting and tithing his first weekly wage of $3. Each of these men had the infinite capacity for taking pains. careful to listen attentively to their chatter, to play their games, to laugh at their jokes and take their sorrows seriously. He knows how to get their point of view and to be a companion to them as well as parent and pro-They are not, all men, these geniuses. There is a woman of my acquaintance who despite poverty and hard work and discouragements incident to it has managed to keep a dainty, immaculate home. The linen on her table is white and well laundered, the curtains at her windows are always crisp and clean, her threadbare rugs are dustless and she keeps herself in the pink of perfection. The children are beautifully trained to accept in good part the privations that their father's small stipend necessitates. If they had been reared in the lap of luxury their manners couldn't be better nor their spirits more radiant. Their mother has the infinite capacity for taking pains. Genius flares in other fields than these and, though the genuises with which we have to do may not accomplish the sort of things that place their names on front pages of newspapers and publicize them to the world, though they may be unknown to the rank and file of their generation, their infinite capacity for taking pains engraves their names on the hearts of the people whose lives they touch and influence.

Last, but not least, is the person with genius for friendship. In no other relationship of life is there other relationship of life is there greater opportunity for the exercise of genius. To make friends and keep them one must have loyalty, sincerity and unselfishness are some of the realms in which the pains must be taken. These people that have a genius for friendship stand out in any community and whenever their names are mentioned those that know them comment upon it.

Oh, you know them, these unknown geniuses. They are not confined to the worlds of science, art, literature and business. They are in your homes, on your streets and their contribution to life is as great as the contributions of those whose names adorn our papers and whose lives are written in history. whose lives are written in history. Peter Likes Nancy's Chestnut Dressing Best of All. BY FLORENCE La GANKE

Nancy was undecided as to whether to make a sausage or a chestuat dressing for the roast turkey. Her family liked them equally well. She had heard of another dressing which used tonsted almonds coarsely chopped, celery cut into small pieces and bread crumbs, the freshly crumbed kind, and of course seasoning. Her aunt, who had tried this variety, said the celery was still fairly crisp and the bread was not soggy in this dressing. Nancy intended to try it some day other than Thanksgiving. She believed that innovations were out of place in holiday dinners. That was time when the traditional meal was the most liked one. So in her dinner she was having roast turkey, mashed potatoes, buttered onions, mashed turnips, cranberry jelly, cold slaw, celery, rolls, pumpkin pie, chilled fruits, coffee and cider.

She looked at the two recipes for dressing. Finally she chose the chestnut one. The sausage dressing is made with a riced potato and crumbed bread, onion, sage, egg and melted butter. The spiciness of the sausage adds to the flavor.

Here is the chestnut variety.

She shelled one quart of chestnuts and poured boiling water over the nut meats to blanch them. By this method she removed that brown skin. Then she cooked them in boiling water until they were tender and put them through a coarse sieve. She added 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup day-old bread crumbed, 2 tablespoons cream, 1-3 cup coarsely chopped celery, some sait, pepper and a few drops of onion juice. This was stuffed into the body cavity of the turkey.

Nancy has a new leaflet on "Holi-

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 .- (A)-Se curity and commodity markets, including United States government bonds, accompanied the dollar higher today as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation left its gold-buying price at $33,76 an ounce. Dollar exchange had a sharp re-covery. Pounds dipped under $5.16 and francs were off about one-fifth cent. Foreign government gold bonds cent. Foreign government gold bonds were weak.

Favorable influences in the bond market, where corporate as well as federal loans rallied, were apparently similar to those at work yesterday—knowledge that the treasury had been buying and a feeling that the unchanged gold-purchase quotation represented another application of the brakes to dollar depreciation. Recovery of investment listings and the fair degree of strength displayed by many commodities, including wheat and cotton, brought buyers into the stock market, although theoretically, of course, lower prices might have been expected, in view of the dollar's performance. However, equities and staples lately have shown an inclination to break with that theory. The advance virtually canceled yesterday's loss; volume, at 1,417,458 shares, was a little larger than on Thursday.

Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, Standard Gas, American Waterworks, North American, Public Service of New Jersey, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Pullman and Reading were up 1 to 2 points at the close, which, generally speaking, was moderately under the day's highs.

Steel shares were steady and auto-

Steel shares were steady and automotives firm, Chrysler and General Motors gaining major fractions net. National Biscuit, Case, Union Carabide, Allied Chemical, Industrial R a y o n, Johns-Manville, Ingersoll Rand, Crucible Steel, Timken, Studebaker preferred and National Steel improved approximately a point. Oils and alcohols lagged while gold stocks, conforming to the day's pattern, eased.

stimulate demand.

Offerings were comparatively light, with very little southern selling in evidence during the early trading. Later the market met realising combined with a little more hedging and closing quotations showed reactions of some 8 to 12 points from the best.

The December notices, estimated at about 25,000 bales, fell slightly below expectations in some quarters of the trade. This was interpreted as indicating that interest in that position had been pretty well liquidated.

Part of the near-month buying was attributed to covering in connection with talk of a firmer technical position. 8 Isarco H El 7s '52. 781 781 17 Nippon E P 6js '53 . 66;

NEW ORLEANS COTTON ADVANCES 8-14 POINTS

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

ADVANCES 8-14 POINTS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—(P)—
Cotton rallied sharply today after an early setback on liquidation in the December position, for which today was first notice day. Notices for 30,000 bales were issued here and for 25,000 in New York, but their prompt stoppage resulted in a brisk rise in values. Dollar fluctuations were ignored and the strength of outside markets was a contributing factor on the advance. The close, under the best, showed net gains for the day of 8 to 14 points.

The opening was active and favorable, Liverpool cables and lower sterling were both ignored in favor of the December notices.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 9 to 11 penny points up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(P)-A prompt stopping of the first December delivery notices, was followed by sharp advance in cotton today although the gains were not fully main-

March contracts, selling off to 10.03 at the start, rallied to 10.24, or about $1 a bale from the lowest, and closed at 10.13. The final tone of the market was barely steady at net advances of 6 to 10 points.

The trade was a good buyer of December. The failure of further advances in the dollar to bring out additional selling following the liquidation of the past two days, appeared to stimulate demand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(P)—Led by corn, all cereals scored brisk advances in price today.

Unusual strength developed in the corn market owing largely to broadening of European demand for corn from the United States and as a result of Washington announcement of prospective restrictions on imports of black strap molasses and tapioca starches into this country. Curtailment of such imports would correspondingly increase the domestic use of corn.

Corn and wheat both closed unsettled at fractional setbacks from the day's top level, corn 13.8 to 17-8 above yesterday's finish, wheat 1 to 13-8 up, oats 5-8 to 1 cent advanced, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 50 cents.

Provisions railled with grains, despite further liquidation by holders of December lard contracts.

PROBLEMS FACING CITY BUDGET BODY

Difference of $500,000 Seen Between Receipts and Appropriations.

As the Atlanta budget commission Friday began a preliminary study of allocations of 1934 revenue, it appeared that a difference of nearly $500,000 will exist between anticipated receipts, estimated at $8,392,000, and appropriations, tentatively set at $8,875,999.61.

Another problem faced the commission—the charter provisions which make it mandatory that the municipality make up sufficient funds to meet general pension and fire department pension funds.

A sum of $50,000 will be needed to supplement fire department pensions for 1934, if no others are added to the pension rolls, and general pension funds will be exhausted about August, entailing another $4,000 monthly drain on the municipality.

Mayor James L. Key and Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the budget commission, pointed out that the municipality will be wrecked financially if pension provisions are not revised.

The commission did not set up the $50,000 needed for the firemen's pensions, but will take the matter under further consideration at the next meeting slated for 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

At that meeting W. Evans Chambers, city survey expert, will be present to recommend slashes. It develop-mandatory next year to prevent a deficit.

Employes now have a 10 per cent reduction from basic pay. Alderman J. Sid Tiller, commission member, insisted that every means be used to prevent any cut in employes' salaries, when they are $100 or less a month, and the commission concurred as far as is possible.

A 10 per cent reduction in the basic pay of non-school employes of the municipality would save about $300,000 a year, but this would be reduced materially if those making $100 or less a month were exempted from any salary slash.

Only about $25,000 a year is added regularly to firemen's pension funds through various cellections, but that now costs approximately $06,000 a year. General pensions funds get about $25,200 a year and cost about $72,000.

The final decision on whether or not Neu is mentally responsible will rest with Judge Henriques.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 24.— (UP)
The Missourl Pacific terminal organization at Memphis, Tenn., established a record of two years without a "reportable injury." C. F.
Larson, superintendent of safety for the Missouri Pacific lines, reported today.

Larson said a "reportable injury" is classed as one involving loss of more than three days from work, necessitaring a report. In establishing their record, the 850 employes worked a total of more than 2,000,000 man-hours, and this is believed to be a world record for a railroad organization of this size,
Larson said.

Ann Harding Is Star

On Paramount Screen The love experience of a lady beauy doctor who could change women's faces from old to new but could not faces from old to new but could not change men's loves from new to old, provides the intrigning and novel it theme of "The Right to Romance," Ann Harding's latest screen success which begins a week's run at the Paramount today.

The lovely star of "When Ladies' Meet" and "Double Harness" is said to have the finest and most human role of her entire career in this appealing drama of the search for romance of a famous lady plastic surgeon who tires of her career and yearns for the love which is every woman's right.

geon who tires of her career and yearns for the love which is every woman's right.

Her marriage to a gay and irresponsible young playboy brings her heartache and disillusionment when she observes his renewed interest in a former sweetheart.

Featured roles in the film are carried by Robert Young, as the siren, and Nils Asther who appears as the serious young doctor with whom the surgeon eventually finds true love and happiness. The strong supporting cast includes Alden Chase, Irving Pichel, Delmar Watson and Helen Freeman.

Bos Hess at the organ will present a solo entitled "Souvenirs," a Betty Boop cartoon, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," an entertaining comedy and the Fox News complete a well-balanced program.

SISTER OF PRESIDENT

OF MERCER STRICKEN
MACON, Ga., Nov. 24.—(P)—Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Mercer University, left early today for Racing that his sister. Mrs. Rufus Coburn, was seriously ill.

Clara Bow Rises Above Plot Weakness at Fox Clara Bow, in her "Hoopla." currently showing at the Fox, is east in an extremely difficult story, one that appears at the outset to be a poor imitation of a Mae West vehicle. If you knew the plot you would say you had seen it done many times before, but Clara early breaks through the Westian influence and offers a picture that fits her like the proverbial glove.

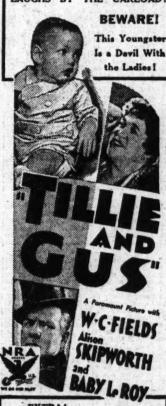

A hoochie-koochie dancer in a small time carnival, she is bribed to se-duce the son of the jealousy-struck mistress of the father. The bashful youth, Richard Cromwell, changes the hardened trouper into a loving wife to the surprise of herself, his father and everyone else. The father is por-trayed by Preston Foster and the com-edy is furnished largely by Herbert Mundin.

The picture is suggestive at times, but is wisely directed into a charming and emotional love story, amply relieved by rapid action and appropriate comedy.

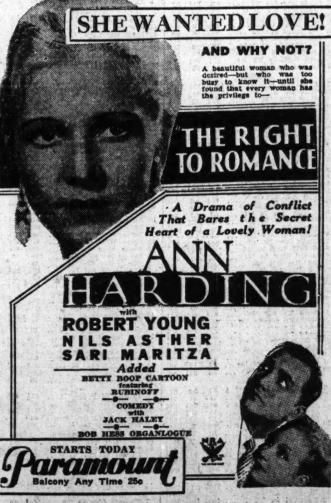

A short subject, "The Operators'
Ball," is unusually attractive.
A Tech-Georgia skit acted by half a dozen children brought forth enthusiastic hoots and cheers from the football audience.
—BRUCE MANNING.

The new agreement, which appears to have the most favorable chance of any yet submitted to obtain final ratification, calls for a minimum retail price of 12 cents and a maximum of 13 cents a quart. The wholesale price is fixed at 101-2 cents a quart, allowing the minimum price dealers to obtain a profit of 11-2 cents on store sales.

Milk prices have been unstable for a long time, and considerable difficulty was met in obtaining a price scale on which the various parties could agree. The new agreement was drawn as the result of a hearing held in Atlanta recently by federal officials.

Represented at Friday's meeting were producers of the Atlanta. Columwer of the Atlanta.
